

Student Success Through Exceptional Teaching

Flexible solutions for every institution.

Partner with ACUE to equip your faculty with proven practices that improve student retention, achievement, and outcomes.

The Association of College and University Educators (ACUE) believes that every faculty member deserves the support and preparation needed to teach well, ensuring every student receives an extraordinary education. By partnering with ACUE, institutions become experienced in evidence-based teaching practices that promote student engagement, persistence to graduation, career readiness, and deeper levels of learning.

ACUE offers the following options, which feature best practices in classroom or online modalities.

Full Course in Effective Teaching Practices

Faculty can take ACUE's full course to earn a Certificate in Effective College Instruction, which is comprised of four microcredentials and endorsed by the American Council on Education (ACE).

Stackable Microcredentials

Institutions can offer any of the full-course microcredentials individually, which are stackable towards the Certificate in Effective College Instruction.
